Child labour is the practice of having children engage in economic activity , on a part or full time basis. India is facing the curse of child –labour . The practice deprives children of their childhood, and is harmful to their physical and mental development. A large number of children have to work as child laboures in industries or other places of work like hotels, stalls, shops, sweet vendors, garages, construction sites,etc.

In our country over population, illiteracy, poverty and debt trap are some of the common causes of child labour. The Indian parliament time and again has passed laws to abolish child labour from India.Below the age 14 years children are not allowed to involve in any hazardous employment under Article 24.

It is also provided under Article 21-A that state shall provide infrastructure and resources for free and compulsory education for children of the age of six up to fourteen years .various schemes and programmes have been formulated to meet this end. But yet it is a far goal to be achieved. Children are to be educated, but poverty does not allow them an access to the school. If they have no work to do, their life poor families will not be able to meet requirements of life. Therefore instead of sending their children to schools and colleges unwillingly they become the victim of child labour.

Indian Weavers

*"WEAVERS, weaving at break of day,
Why do you weave a garment so gay?
Blue as the wing of a halcyon wild,
We weave the robes of a new-born child.*

*Weavers, weaving at fall of night,
Why do you weave a garment so bright?...
Like the plumes of a peacock, purple and green,
We weave the marriage-veils of a queen.*

*Weavers, weaving solemn and still,
What do you weave in the moonlight chill?...
White as a feather and white as a cloud,
We weave a dead man's funeral shroud."*
